

Promotion and Growth

AJM are delighted to announce the promotion of Anthony Davies to Commercial Director. Since arriving at AJM in May 2019, Anthony has played a key role in AJM's expansion and growth, calling upon his experience in management to help guide the company throughout the pandemic.

This appointment is testament to his knowledge of operational management, including procurement, negotiation and developing client relationships.

Managing Director, Ryan Woodcock commented that 'Anthony's commitment and knowledge of the construction sector sets him apart from his peers and he is integral to AJM's continued growth and success. I'm very pleased to announce his appointment as Commercial Director.'

“ I've very much enjoyed being part of the AJM team over the last few years and am excited by my new role. AJM are an exceptional, forward thinking company.

AJM was established in 1997 and has developed extensive expertise and experience in mechanical engineering. The company is recognised as a leading mechanical contractor, offering design, installations, systems integration, full system testing and commissioning.

Congratulations Anthony.
